

2015 Eco Film Series: Land, Air, and Water

The 2015 Eco-Film series is offered in partnership by the Lowell Parks & Conservation Trust and the Lowell Film Collaborative. The series will feature an environmentally-themed film on the last Tuesday of each month from January to June.

January 27, 2015

Film: Gringo Trails

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Eco-travel

Is tourism destroying the world—or saving it? From the Bolivian jungle to the party beaches of Thailand, and from the deserts of Timbuktu, Mali to the breathtaking beauty of Bhutan, Gringo Trails shows the unanticipated impact of tourism on cultures, economies, and the environment, tracing some stories over 30 years.

gringotrails.com

February 24, 2015

Film: Disruption

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Climate Change

‘When it comes to climate change, why do we do so little when we know so much?’ Through a relentless investigation to find the answer, Disruption takes an unflinching look at the devastating consequences of our inaction. This is the story of our unique moment in history. The film enlarges the issue beyond climate impacts and makes a compelling call for bold action that is strong enough to tip the balance to build a clean energy future.

watchdisruption.com

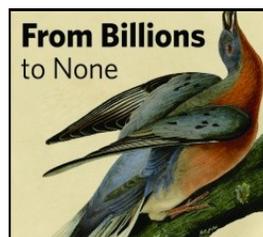

March 24, 2015

Film: From Billions to None

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Species extinction

From Billions to None: The Passenger Pigeon's Flight to Extinction, reveals the compelling story of the unlikely extinction of the passenger pigeon and explores the pigeon's striking relevance to conservation issues today, such as the alarming depletion of shark species worldwide. For centuries, the sleek long-distance flyer was the most abundant bird in North America and perhaps the world. It was hunted to extinction in a matter of decades. On September 1, 1914, Martha, the last passenger pigeon in captivity, died in the Cincinnati Zoo, marking the end of the species, and the upcoming centenary of the extinction event.

billionstonone.com

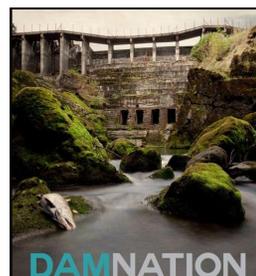

April 28, 2015

Film: DamNation

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Rivers, dams

This powerful film explores the change in our national attitude from pride in big dams as engineering wonders to the growing awareness that our own future is bound to the life and health of our rivers. Where obsolete dams come down, rivers bound back to life, giving salmon and other wild fish the right of return to primeval spawning grounds, after decades without access. DamNation's majestic cinematography and unexpected discoveries move through rivers and landscapes altered by dams, but also through a metamorphosis in values, from conquest of the natural world to knowing ourselves as part of nature.

damnationfilm.com

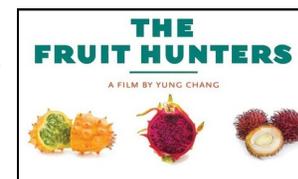

May 26, 2015

Film: The Fruit Hunters

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Food

The Fruit Hunters travels across culture, history and geography to show how intertwined we are with the fruits we eat. Our guides are devoted fruit fanatics. This film is a cinematic odyssey through nature and commerce, The Fruit Hunters will change not only the way we look at what we eat but how we view our relationship to the natural world.

eyesteelfilm.com/fruihunters

June 30, 2015

Film: Angel Azul

Time: 6:30 pm

Theme: Oceans

Angel Azul explores the artistic journey of an innovative artist who combines creativity with an important environmental solution; the creation of artificial coral reefs from statues he's cast from live models. This film leaves viewers pondering our connection to this valuable and beautiful ecosystem.

angelazulthemovie.com

*Please note, films are subject to change.
Please visit www.lowelllandtrust.org for current schedule.

This series is supported in part by a grant from the Lowell Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

Thank you to our sponsors!

Event Partners

Event Contributor

*Help support this film series!
Make a contribution at:*

www.lowelllandtrust.org

www.lowellfilmcollaborative.org

Film Series Location

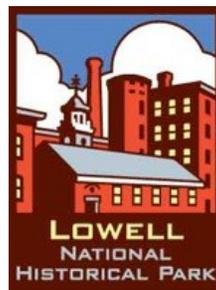

Lowell National Historical Park Visitor Center

Address: 246 Market St., Lowell

Parking located at 304 Dutton Street

A special thank you to the Lowell National Historical Park for use of the Visitor Center!

2015 Eco Film Series: Land, Air, and Water

Last Tuesday of every month from January to June

Presented by:

