

IN CELEBRATION OF IMAGINE A DAY WITHOUT WATER
JOIN THE MASSACHUSETTS WATER ENVIRONMENT ASSOCIATION FOR A SCREENING OF

UNLESS SOMETHING GOES TERRIBLY WRONG

What really happens after water goes down the drain?

Filmed over two years at Portland, Maine's East End Wastewater Treatment Facility, Unless Something Goes Terribly Wrong takes you inside the often-unseen world of wastewater. The film highlights the people and systems working around the clock to protect public health and our environment.

Following the documentary, stay for Q&A with panelists representing the clean water industry, community planning, and academia to discuss infrastructure, water resources and utility resilience.
